About Me

I am a recent graduate from Fidelitas University in Computer Systems Engineering. My academic journey has honed my skills in both Frontend and Backend development, making me a versatile Full Stack Developer. Passionate about staying at the forefront of technology, I am dedicated to solving current challenges through creative solutions. Beyond coding, I find joy in music, maintaining a balanced approach to life. I am eager to apply my knowledge and skills to contribute meaningfully to innovative projects in the tech industry.
